

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ACHCA Board of Directors Adopts Revised Code of Ethics

Rockville, MD. — November 21, 2025 — The American College of Health Care Administrators (ACHCA) is pleased to announce that its Board of Directors has formally adopted the revised 2025 Code of Ethics. This updated Code reaffirms ACHCA's longstanding commitment to integrity, accountability, and person-centered leadership across the continuum of post-acute and long-term services and supports.

The 2025 revision strengthens guidance for contemporary practice by clarifying expectations related to professional competence, organizational stewardship, and collaboration within the broader health and community care landscape. It also addresses emerging areas such as the responsible use of technology and AI, enhanced protections against discrimination and harassment, and more robust standards for compliance, transparency, and conflict-of-interest management.

“ACHCA's Code of Ethics is foundational to our mission,” said Jennifer English Lynch, CAE, ACHCA Executive Director. “These revisions ensure that our members are equipped with clear, practical, and forward-looking standards that reflect the evolving responsibilities of leaders in aging services.”

The revised Code of Ethics is effective immediately and applies to all ACHCA members. It will guide ethical decision-making, reinforce public trust, and support excellence in the administration of skilled nursing, assisted living, home health, and hospice services.

Access the revised Code of Ethics here.

About ACHCA:

Founded in 1962, the American College of Health Care Administrators (ACHCA) is the premier professional association devoted to advancing leadership excellence in post-acute and aging services administration. Through professional certification, educational offerings, mentorship, advocacy, and research initiatives, ACHCA empowers administrators to lead with integrity, compassion, and innovation.

Contact: ACHCA info@achca.org